

Discover a reliable source of motivated seasonal workers

Finding the right people to staff your business is difficult enough. It's even harder when you need to fill the same positions season after season, year after year. InterExchange Work & Travel USA can ease that burden. Our cultural exchange program matches seasonal US employers with enthusiastic young workers from around the world.

FULL SEASON COVERAGE ▶

International university students have longer academic breaks than US students, so they can work for longer stretches of time—up to four months total. By staggering your staff arrival dates, you can enjoy full-season coverage. Since InterExchange recruits students from the Northern and Southern Hemispheres, we can fill positions for your spring, summer or winter seasons.

PERSONAL ATTENTION ▶

InterExchange has a highly experienced team based in New York City. As soon as you complete our free registration form, we'll assign a dedicated account manager who will be responsible for finding the best candidates for your business. You have final say over whom you hire, but you can leave the details to us. If you have any questions during the process, just pick up the phone. Your account manager is always ready to assist you.

CULTURAL EXCHANGE ▶

Culturally diverse staff bring international flair to your workplace—whether it's a resort, a hotel, a retail shop, a restaurant, or another type of seasonal business. InterExchange Work & Travel USA participants also bring extraordinary enthusiasm to their jobs. Excited about living and working in the US, they are highly motivated and energetic.

WORK & TRAVEL USA

NO RISK, NO COST ▶

InterExchange Work & Travel USA is a completely free service to employers.

You pay no registration or program fees. Although we do ask you to estimate your staffing needs when you register with us, you are under no obligation to hire our participants. If you find that you do not require staffing assistance, we'll keep your information on file so that we can easily assist you in future seasons.
